Hero Build Guide

Below you will find a guide for ideal/optimal builds for heroes, based on PVP mode in the game (Union War, Dominator and Transcendence, All Arenas), as well as PVE modes like X-War,Galaxy/Faction wanted, Expedition, Space Discovery, Valiant Trials and Lost Land.
These aren't a hard fast must. You do what you can with what you have. Triple double is also always an option. (3x 2-sets).
Also important to note that Annihilation at Present is only useful on Pierre, Epeius and Orochi.
Gem talents may very depending on the opponent you're facing. Never follow a guide blindly. Read your situation and adapt.

Special note: Speed matters for all heroes. It determines turn order. Speed matters more for some than others, based on individual hero skills. If you're facing CC, third talent 3 is advised. Higher prioritised Gems have been highlighted for each hero. Additionally, artifacts and stigmata are not listed in priority generally or intentionally.

Team Build Advice for beginners.

Every good team consists of a few things.
1-2 tanks (the ones taking the bulk of the damage. Such as thinker, Paladin, Rockefeller)
1-2 DPS (your damage dealers. Toko, Indira, Laura etc)
2-4 Supports and buffers/Debuffers (like Cui pan who removes CC, Silas who disables the highest attack enemy and Cupid who buffs the heroes in spots 1,2)

When team building, it's important to remember special boosts you can gain from different compositions. See attached diagrams. Also, Serena (Miss USA) increases ally SUPERMAN FACTION Armor and Attack.

*Faction bonus in star tech adds onto the faction bonus chart. Generally not worth upgrading.

Most DPS heroes you encounter earlier game target the front row, so it's best to put your tanks in the front. Some tanks need to be in position 1. Read easy hero's skills. For heroes such as Cui pan, who rely on getting to half life for their special ability, try put them in positions 3 or 4. The DPS, bar those who have counter abilities (like GS) go in the back.

Heroes such as Runner and Ronin are less effective in PVP than PVE because their buffs rely on living for extended periods. While good for longer battles (PVE), PVP battles are more often than not, over very fast. The positions you're using for time dependent heroes could better be used on heroes that have perma-buffs etc. (like Kong, whose speed ability is from the start.)

Special note: PVE modes such as void, hub, wish boss, QI have reflectant damage. Meaning the faster you do big damage, the faster you die. Because the damage they deal you directly scales from the damage you do them. Keep that in mind when building your teams.

Niche A hero skills for PVE

Please note that use of A heroes is not recommended in PVP, as they are too hard to build for survivabilty, and every buff they can provide (bar Cupid) can be obtained through a much stronger S or S+ hero.

F.A.Q

Why are some heroes recommended for 31 exclusive and not 30?
The reason some heroes are recommended for an exclusive of 31 and not 30 is because when you get them to 32, the third stat in their exclusive. For example, Alcazar at +30 has additional Broken Armor of 15%. At +31 her additional broken Armor (the third exclusive stat) increases to 20%.

What does the highlighting mean?
The highlighting indicates priority gems of the recommended ones.

I prefer X stigmata on a hero and your first recommendation is different. Why?
The sequence of stigmata/artifacts are in general not listed in priority order.
